OBJECTS THAT TALK.
STORIES ABOUT ART,
DESIGN & ETHICS

If there's anything we like above all, it's a good story. Big, small, simple or detailed; in the form of a book, song, movie or speech. Why not in the form of an object?

Anything counts if in the end the story is able to awaken our emotions and provoke some kind of reflection.

At ISOL we want to tell this type of story about some of our favorite topics. Our objects have been created with the goal of being able to talk about art, design and ethics, because for us it's as important what we talk about as how we talk about it. This is why we produce everything with social and ecological sustainability in mind.

Our catalogue features stories that aim to bridge the complicated divide between ethics and aesthetics.

Shall we tell you more?

Baghaus Collection

IN FUTURE WE TRUST

During one of the least hopeful periods of the twentieth century, the Bauhaus School was able to offer the world a revolutionary and optimistic message. This collection is not just a tribute to their creative legacy. It is, above all, a recognition of their social attitude, more necessary today than ever.

Baghaus is a collection of bags with different domestic uses devised to help us consume less plastic. The primary fabric used is manufactured from plastics recovered from the Mediterranean, and throughout the production process we have applied the same criteria of sustainability and ethical responsibility.

Designaholic Collection

DESIGN IS WHAT MEANING LOOKS LIKE

If, as they say, everything is design, it would be normal to obsess a little over its language. Why not? 'Designaholic' is a small homage to the designer's gaze, whose code constructs the reality that surrounds us, whether we're conscious of it or not.

THE ART OF THE SENSES

Can you imagine being able to explain art through a 100% sensory code? What would the great artists throughout history have created if, instead of paintings, music, sculpture or books, they could have expressed themselves through chocolate or botany?

ART +
BOTANY +
SOCIAL COMMITMENT

What would the result be if Picasso, Dalí, Monet or any other well-known artist had dedicated themselves to botany? Siniestesiart Botanicum is the adventure of trying to answer that question. Each pack includes four clay balls mixed with three kinds of seeds, meant to encourage us to grow art. This is a project in collaboration with Bridepalla, a social and ecological economy company that employs people with intellectual disabilities.

ART +
HIGH QUALITY CHOCOLATE +
SOCIAL COMMITMENT

When we can hear colors, see sounds or perceive taste sensations when touching an object, we are having a synesthetic experience. Sinestesiart Chocolate is a project by Isol Barcelona thought as the challenge of being able to explain some of the main movements of the History of Art through a 100% sensory code. This collection of chocolates was born from the collaboration with Xócala, a high quality chocolate company with social value, whose objective is to incorporate people with intellectual disabilities who are at risk of social exclusion in the world of work.
